

Review Workflow and Evidence Classification

Systematized scoping review for autonomous engineering vehicle safety

This is a structured scoping workflow, not a complete PRISMA systematic review. Source types are separated before framework synthesis.

Evidence responsibility: standards support status or clauses only when authorized; papers support research claims; company pages anchor scenarios; anonymized field samples require consent.